Introduction

OptomCAS is the centralized application service for the Association of Schools and Colleges of Optometry (ASCO) and is administered by Liaison International Inc., an education information technology company located in Watertown, MA. OptomCAS allows optometry applicants to use a single web-based application and one set of materials to apply to multiple schools and colleges of optometry. Applicants who apply through OptomCAS submit a completed web-based application comprised of biographical data, colleges and universities attended, academic course history, letters of recommendation, work experience, extracurricular activities, honors and a personal essay. It is the applicant's responsibility to read and follow specific instructions for OptomCAS and the schools and colleges of optometry.

OptomCAS began its first year on July 15, 2009 for Admissions Cycle 2009-2010. Since its implementation, all eligible schools and colleges of optometry have participated in the centralized application service. OptomCAS provides validated numbers for the optometry application process.

This report will focus on OptomCAS Cycle 8, which is the Admissions Cycle 2016-2017. This cycle opened on June 29, 2016 and closed on June 2, 2017. The application fee was $165 for one institution and $65 for each additional institution.

Participating Institutions for 2016-2017

As noted in Table 1, twenty-three schools and colleges of optometry participated in OptomCAS in Admissions Cycle 2016-2017.

Figure 3.

As shown in Figure 3, the majority of applicants were White (47%) with the other applicants reporting Asian (29%), Spanish/Hispanic/Latino/Latina (10%), Black/African-American (4%), Two or More Races (3%), American Indian/Alaska Native (less than 1%), and Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander (less than 1%). Seven percent of applicants did not report a race.

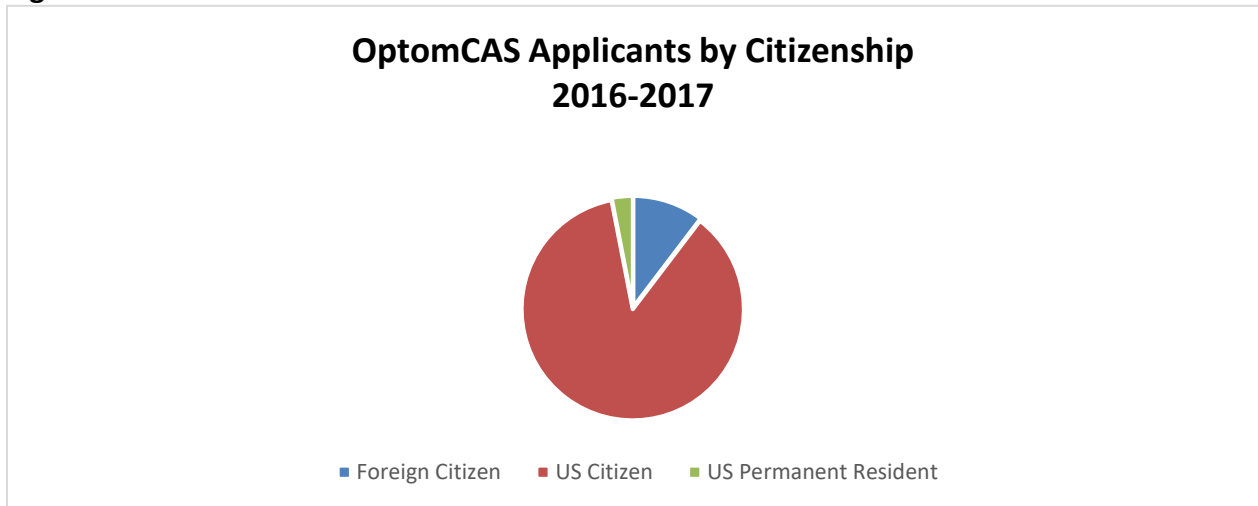

Figure 4.

As shown in Figure 4, there were minor shifts in the ethnicity categories for this application cycle from last cycle with a slight increase in Spanish/Hispanic/Latino/Latina and White applicants. There was a decrease in Asian applicants.

Citizenship

As shown in Figure 5, the majority of applicants in 2016-2017 were US citizens at 89%. Eight percent of applicants reported they were foreign citizens and 3% US permanent residents. This was very similar to last year.

State of Residence

The top five states where OptomCAS applicants claimed their state of residence in 2016-2017 were: California, Texas, New York, Florida and Illinois. There were 200 applicants from Canada. In the 2015-2016 Admissions Cycle, the top five states were: California, Texas, Florida, New York and Illinois and 223 applicants from Canada.

First Generation College Student

In 2016-2017, 63% of submitted OptomCAS applications had a parent who attended/graduated from college, while 28% of applications are first generation college students. Nine percent declined to answer the question. This was similar to last year.

Military Experience

Less than 1% of OptomCAS applicants had previous military experience, which was the same as the last admissions cycle.

Influences

The top five influences on why an applicant chose to apply to a Doctor of Optometry program were: non-relative optometrist, a parent who is a non-optometrist, relative optometrist, other health professional and friend. These influences were the same as last admissions cycle.

Academic Information on the Doctor of Optometry Applicant

Major

The most selected major on the OptomCAS application was Biology. Biology was also the top major last year.

Institution

The California higher education system claimed four of the top five spots for feeder institutions for OptomCAS applicants. These institutions were: University of California, Irvine; University of Houston; University of California, Los Angeles; University of California, San Diego and University of California, Berkeley. In 2015-2016, the top five feeder schools were: University of California, Irvine; University of California, Berkeley; University of California, Los Angeles; University of Houston and University of Florida.

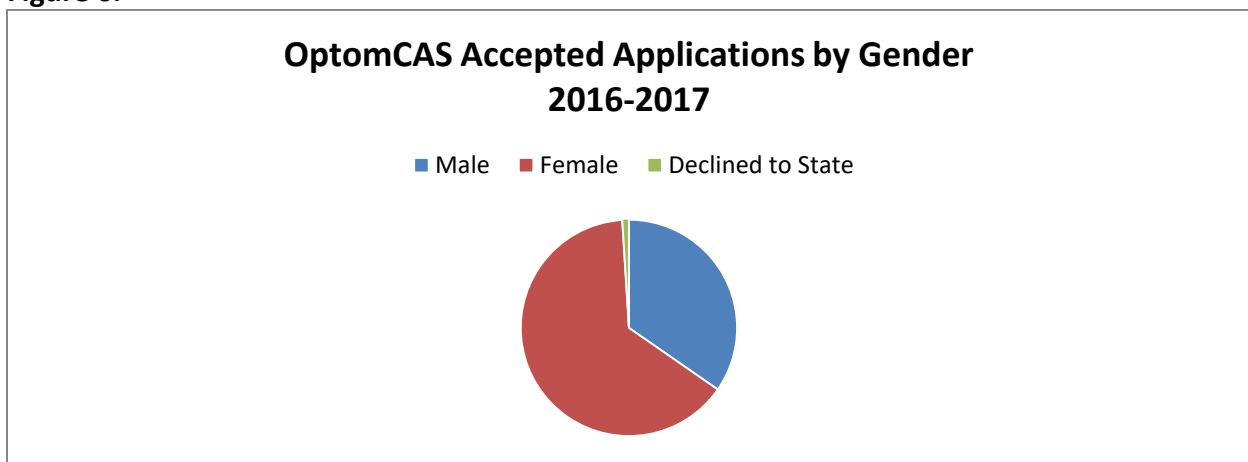

GPA

OptomCAS calculates a standardized GPA to aid the schools and colleges of optometry in evaluating applicants using uniform and consistent criteria. The overall cumulative GPA for all applicants was 3.33 – for males it was 3.30 and 3.35 for females. The GPAs were similar in the last admissions cycle – 3.28 for males and 3.33 for females.

Accepted Profile of the Doctor of Optometry Applicant
